Community events will include - boot races for children ages 4 to 10, egg races, sack races in 3 sections - ages 4 to 8, 9 to 12, and a special race for all fathers, and a community tug of war. No entry fees on any of the community events.

There will be food booths available. Mrs. Jones asks that you bring your own folding chairs.

It really sounds like a great way to spend the day with your family.

Love your neighbor as yourself. These words are some of the oldest in the world. However, none of us seem to be doing a very good job of practicing even a portion of this philosophy.

Perhaps it is that these words have not been read for decades. If not read, heard for generations. Of course, this is defined as an "altruistic" philosophy or belief. And many of the people who "came" from the old continent and England, were fortune hunters, either for land or for the love of gold. Some were for the survival of their religious beliefs. Some hoped that a new land would be a place of freedom for their kind of religion to be voiced and acted upon.

However, most all that came spread a common disease: Take - not only what you need, but what you want. It spread an old behavioral pattern in a new land - a relatively socially clean environment, gradually became like what these people had left on the old continent. And had been practiced for 100's of years - greed - love yourself, your family, your things first, maybe others next in the line of heirarchy. Then, possibly, none at all after the love of yourself and the "things" you must get to fill the gaping hole in yourself to feed the self-wants.

Others have always suffered at the expense of "my wants". One man shouted "I want land!" Well, it was that this so called "free" land was in fact occupied! It was the land of someone else. It was not free either, its cost was blood.

Some men shouted "We can live together, the land is big!" Well, that worked for a while until the mans family waxed strong and grew then he must have more. That, however, became a part of the real problem; that land had richer, black soil, or oil or even that precious gold. Then the man could have more slaves (machinery) to work his land and more horses, a finer breed, if he had more capitol.

Man justified most all his wants; betterment - he called it! Progress, he said.

Yes, and the men that were here already - the Indian - they were heathens, savages, why even the Holy Book said that! And the blacks, well they were an inferior bunch of savages, too. So we are doing them a favor! Yes indeed - for the progress of man - in actuality - white man exploitation!

We ran over the land from coast to coast in a matter of a hundred years - gold helped and hurried the process to the Pacific Coast.

Today, we have a strange mixture; find a reason in your mind for what you want, toss in a religious motive and it makes it a more sophisticated rationalization. Name calling is a handy mechanism to discredit an individual's integrity - we don't know the person but be sure and "tag" them with something ugly and others with like minds will be sure and "catch on." Because after all, all of us like our "wants" too!

We really don't understand many things but what we don't understand, like primitives, is definitely a threat! So use any tool for a leverage and since we don't excuse outright murder of the physical - we certainly can deface the personality - murder it instead.

After 1960 years we should rewrite that whole "Good Book", and it would read:

Love yourself, your own ideas, your own things, then your own race, then if you have any love left, maybe, maybe....maybe....

LETTERS FROM THE EARTH - UN-CENSORED WRITINGS BY MARK TWAIN

This was passed on to us by Lou Salzarulo. We would like to thank her for the time and interest she takes in the paper.

Letter VIII

"Man is without any doubt the most interesting fool there is. Also, the most eccentric. He hasn't a single written Law, in his Bible or out of it, which has any but just one purpose and intention - to limit or defeat a Law of God.

He can seldom take a plain fact and get any but a wrong meaning out of it. He cannot help this; it is the way the confusion he calls his mind is constructed. Consider the things he concedes, and the curious conclusions he draws from them.

For instance, he concedes that God made man. Made him without man's desire or privity.

This seems to plainly and indisputably make God, and God alone, responsible for man's acts. But man denies this - "He concedes that God gives to each man his temperament, his disposition, at birth; he concedes that man cannot by any process change this temperament, but must remain always under it's dominion. Yet if it be full of dreadful passions, in one man's case, and barren of them in another man's, it is right and rational to punish the one for his crimes, and reward the other for abstaining from crime-

"Temperament is the law of God written in the heart of every creature by God's own hand, and must be obeyed, and will be obeyed in spite of all restricting or forbidding statutes, let them emanate whence they may-

"It is as I have said: every statute in the Bible and in the law books is an attempt to defeat a law of God- in other words an unalterable and indestructable law of nature."

CONTEST SECTION FOR APRIL

The subject for the month of April was What would world peace mean to you and how would it affect you personally?, counting the two following letters, there were a total of four received, written by the following:

1. Mrs. Jay Grieco
2. Tzandur
3. Lucy Salzarulo
4. Elice B. Neher

We ask that in the coming week you please call your choice in to the CYHI for the best letter. In next weeks issue, the winner will be announced and will be awarded $5.00 by the CYHI, also in that issue the subject for the month of May will be given.

World peace would mean to me that I am "Free to be" - it would affect me personally with an opportunity to grow and progress - physically, mentally and spiritually.

The very expression of "world peace", is overwhelming and awe inspiring. With my rational mind I say - near impossible - but there is HOPE. Hope?? Outside help? The indwelling spirit of me can relate to a beginning where I feel an atonement with my Maker, I call Him God. With Him nothing is impossible. A good place to start!

When world peace is earned it would be a people-people place. Philosophies, religion, politics would just be words. No barriers - no boundaries - no countries - no colors - only human beings. No more mass evacuations, no mass annihilations - no big sweep riddance of what is.

It would all come about within each human being - where the cleansing process would have to start and where the seed of LOVE would grow in each, which in turn would make the other fellow WANT the peace, love and joy in his heart.

The light would shine all the time - where one had no darkness - in thought, in word, or in deed. We would all be BROTHERS.

Jay Grieco

If the peoples of this world were to achieve the much sought after goal of peaceful co-existence I would be out of a job! It would affect me personally in that I could then direct my pursuits to more meaningful exploits.

No more futile flights hovering over planet Earth in my gyrombeler (flying saucer to Earthlings) to check on the physical and spiritual progress of its inhabitants. I could spin out to Mercury or Venus to warm up and absorb solar energies (as they are nearer the Sun), or take a planetoid hop from Jupiter to Saturn then out to Uranus, then far out to Far Out Neptune, and on, on, ever on to distant Pluto. And I'd be willing to bet that upon my return to Mars you Earthlings would have become of age, and I could converse with you on a one-to-one basis without any fear or mistrust for if you had at ever lovin' last attained World Peace and stopped fighting among yourselves it would prove you worthy of existence on a higher plane.

It confuses and truly baffles me to see that you are still warring among your continents. Squandering your resources and despoiling your planet. Rushing about willy-nilly bumping one another, aggressive, competitive, acquisitive for that which you can never truly own - for the planet belongs to all mankind.

How can you ever hope to attain the Vertex?

With humble hopes
TZANDUR

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

I appreciate your editorials of last week. It seems good to have a paper where different views can be expressed and add to our learning process. "Happy is the man who getteth wisdom and the man who getteth understanding."

There was a statement made in the April 11th issue of CYHI, namely that "We are all the children of God," and I think that statement is misleading.

There are many religions and one time Jesus told some religious people that their father was the devil because their works proved it.

There has been a conflict going on between God the Father, and the devil every day since one of the created beings tried to get rid of the Supreme Authority and take over the affairs of the universe. He is at war with Jesus Christ. He has power. His power is devastating. He is called the prince of the power of the air. He entered into a man once during the time when Jesus lived on the earth. He was among the followers of Jesus. He was a traitor but he sat at supper with the disciples at the Last Supper which Jesus ate with the disciples. He pretended to be the friend of Jesus, but even his kiss was a lie. So those who claim to be the children of God, are either true to Christ or they are not. Religions may have beautiful teachings but when they are inspired by the devil, and belong to him, they lie and the truth is not in them. Lets face it, some people are Gods and some people are devils.

Those who are religious and act nice, claim to belong to God when actually they belong to the devil and they enjoy deceiving people. There are multitudes of people in this class. Jesus said "Broad is the way that leads to destruction."

God sent His Son into the world to let people know the truth. In His great love He gave humans the chance to choose whom they wish to follow. People can accept Life and eternal companionship with God, or they can choose to follow with the devil, called Satan. We are being deceived if we claim sonship with God when we are in the clutches of Satan, the deceiver.

The United States was founded in order that people could be free from man made religions. When men set themselves up as dictators and force people to believe in a system which is contrary to what Jesus taught they are allowing themselves to become slaves to the evil one.

Even the United Nations, so called, is a deceiver. It claims authority which it has no right to. Someone is advocating that the U.S. get out of that deceptive organization and that the United Nations get out of the United States. General McArthur said and realized that the Nations of the world would be at Armageddon.

At that time Satan will be bound so that he will not be able to carry on his war against the people who believe in the Son of God. He is to let people live in peace on this earth for a thousand years. To have peace on earth, it is destined that the devil won't be on earth as the deceiver.

God is Love. Those who believe in Christ and are obedient to Him are given the power to be the Sons of God. He is the Father, and Jesus talked to Him while He was on earth. He prayed "Our Father, who art in Heaven," we have the right to call Him our Father if we believe in His Son. He demonstrated His authority in numerous ways and the wise people who have been born again have Life and Love and Liberty.

Sincerely,
Alice B. Neher
