SUICIDE AT YANKEE HILL.—On Friday evening last, Mr. James Murdoch, of Yankee Hill, committed suicide by taking laudanum. We were not intimately acquainted with the deceased, but we have been led to the conclusion, from what we can gather from those who knew him well, that he was subject to frequent fits of insanity, observable since the death of his wife and two children, which sad bereavement happened about a year since, either just before or just after his arrival from California at his home in the East. The deceased was a highly respectable gentleman. His rash act is much deplored.

SAMUEL NEAL, aged 43 years,

Mr. Neal was one of the earliest pioneers of California having come to this State in 1844. He was one of Fremont's party in the perilous crossing of the Sierra Nevada of that year, when the hearts of the stoutest nearly failed them. Having received a Grant of land from one of the Mexican Governors, in consideration of important service which he rendered him during one of the interminable Mexican revolutions, Mr. Neal located his Grant at Butte Creek, where he has since resided and employed his time in stock raising. In this business, he acquired a handsome fortune, which has been left by will to a sister and other relatives, with the exception of some bequest to his friends in this county. Mr. Neal was a bachelor and though he was not without faults, he was considered an honest man, and was much respected.

Two Men Buried Alive!

At 9 o'clock on the morning of the 26th ult., a portion of the tunnel in the quartz claim of Messrs. Smith & Sparks, at Table Mountain, caved in, entombing alive probably, within the tunnel, two of the workmen, David Shine and F. G. Mathews.

On this claim there is a shaft 165 feet in depth, at the bottom of which was the engine which raised the dirt and rock, and drained another tunnel 100 feet below the engine. The two unfortunate men were at work in the lower tunnel, when the earth immediately under the engine caved in filling the outlet of the tunnel, rendering the engine useless, and all efforts to rescue them unavailing. It is supposed that the tunnel must have filled with water within twenty-four hours after the accident. One cannot readily imagine a more horrid death than to be shut up, hopeless of escape, in the very bowels of the earth, 265 feet beneath the surface, in utter darkness, with the water gradually rising, and a lingering death about to ensue, and ensuing.

We understand that it was against the wishes of the proprietors of the claim, that the two men entered the tunnel, on the morning of the catastrophe, as the heavy rains had so saturated the ground, fears were entertained of such an event as happened. But one of the men was extremely anxious to give one more blast, confidently expressing the belief that he would thereby reach a lost vein of quartz.

On the slope of the mountain above the shaft alluded to, four or five acres have sunk three or four feet.

HOMICIDE IN BUTTE COUNTY.—We are informed that a man by the name of Phipps, was killed at Yankee Hill, in Butte county, on Thursday last, by an old man by the name of Pope. Our informant states that Phipps, who was a drunken, trifling fellow, annoyed Pope to such an extent, by “pawing around” and punching him, that he was provoked into striking him on one side of his head, knocking him down by the blow. No apprehensions were felt of serious consequences from the blow, but on Friday morning, blood began to ooze out of one ear and shortly thereafter Phipps died. Our informant gave us no further particulars, save that Pope was a man of excellent character, and was greatly grieved at the death of Phipps.

NO. 39.

THE HOMICIDE AT YANKEE HILL—CORRECTION.—Gentlemen, who are residents of Butte county, and who knew Phipps, the man who was killed at Yankee Hill, the latter part of last week, inform us that our statement (made upon information.) that the deceased was a drunken, trifling fellow, is entirely incorrect. The following letter is from a friend in Oroville :

OROVILLE, March 5, 1860.

EDITOR APPEAL—Dear Sir: I noticed in the APPEAL of this morning, a notice of the unfortunate casualty at Yankee Hill, which resulted in the death of Mr. Phipps, at the hands of Mr. Pope. In that notice, you have unwittingly done great injustice to the dead. E. B. Phipps was not a drunken fellow, as you have no doubt been informed, but a very respectable young gentleman; an owner in the Virgin quartz mine, a man well known in this community, and much respected. I knew him well, and merely write this because I am satisfied that you have been imposed on in the premise, and that you will do justice to the dead.

Your truly,

H.

Death of John DeMott.

We are grieved to be obliged to announce this week, the death of JOHN D MOTT, a printer by profession, and one of the attaches of the Record Office. He died at the residence of his brother-in-law, Geo. H. Crosette Esqr., on Wednesday morning last, of consumption, having been confined to his bed for only three or four days. Mr. DeMott, or Jack, as he was kindly and familiarly called by his intimate friends, has been a resident of this County for some three or four years, and during this time he acquired the intimate friendship of many, and the respect of all. He was a man of strong feelings—ardent in his attachments—somewhat bitter, perhaps, in his antipathies, but of noble and generous impulses—one in whom the good far outbalanced the little that might be condemned. His remains were followed to the grave, on Thursday last, by a large number of acquaintances, friends and brothers, and consigned to their last resting place amid the honors and solemnities of the Masonic Order. of which he was a worthy member. Peace be to thy ashes, poor Jack! Long may thy memory be green in the hearts of thy numerous friends—fresh and green as the waving grass, watered by the tears of love and affection, which shall grow over thy bed of peace.
