

PEOPLE AND PLACES

Les Jewett tells us that the project up in Loyalton is coming along nicely. Jim Bush is the superintendent on the job, they are working for Val Co. putting in a ski resort. When finished it will offer 5 ski tows, a motel, 27 miles of road, and an airfield. They are also selling lots for homesites. Glen Moore from our area is also employed there.

John Legget is home from the service for approximately a fifteen day leave. When he returns he will be stationed in Arizona. John is a clerk typist with an Intelligence School.

COMING EVENTS

Don't forget the Thanksgiving Dinner at the Grange Hall on November 13th. Tickets will be sold at the door, $1.50 for adults, and 75¢ for children under 12. An excellent dinner and fun for the entire family.

November 21st is the date for the First Homespun Fair. It will be held at the Grange Hall from 10:00 A.M. to 3:00 P.M. Call 533-0714 to reserve your table to sell your items. The price will be $1.50 per table to pay the rental for the Hall and for the refreshments. So far we have quite a variety of homemade crafts on the list and it looks like a very interesting meet. If you do not have enough items for a whole table, you may share a table with someone else. This is not limited to homemade items, bring anything you have to sell or trade.

APPOLOGY

We appologize to The Ladies Club, it was our typographical error that changed Tuesday, November 9th to the 8th. We understand that the meeting was changed to Wednesday later on.

We are sorry, even in proof reading an error will sometimes go unnoticed. We hope they had a good meeting in spite of us.

THE COUNTY ROAD

The County road in Concow is getting worse by the day. If phoning the road department doesn't get any results, why not attend a Board of Supervisors Meeting, as a group, and be a little more demanding. Cars will not stand up to the torture this road gives. If you are interested in attending a Board Meeting, or in signing a petition demanding they at least grade the road properly, give us a call. If you've had a run on flat tires lately, a broken spring, or replaced your shock absorbers, the answer is fairly obvious.

USED CLOTHING TO NEEDY FAMI LIES

The donations of used clothing are coming in quite well. If you give us a call, we'll make arrangements to have your items picked up. Thank you all for your cooperation, the clothing will be put to good use by many families. If you know of any families that are in need of clothes, let us know.

DEER SEASON OR SLAUGHTER?

Mrs. Hollopeter reports that someone shot a doe between and within 150 feet of one trailer home, and 175 feet of another, sometime late Saturday night or early Sunday morning. Most of the acreages are posted NO HUNTING or NO TRESPASSING, but regardless - bu ck or doe, posted or not, the community is too thickly populated for hunting, and anyone caught shooting in such a populated area will be prosecuted. There are houses or trailer houses on almost every 5 acre lot in this specific area. The doe was left lying in a ditch, and it was noted that she had still been suckeling a fawn.

HOROSCOPES

Weekly Horoscopes November 12 - 19, 1971

CAPRICORN December 21 to January 21

A good time for those of your sign to get away from it all. A trip to renew old friendships. A good week to thoroughly enjoy yourself.

AQUARIUS January 22 to February 18

Minor ailments may hamper your busy life. Try to take time from your schedule to get as much rest as is possible.

PISCES February 19 to March 20

Neighborhood problems could be upsetting. Stand your ground, don't let your decisions sway. Company may drop in unannounced, and they could pry on your nerves. A disquieting week for you.

ARIES March 21 to April 20

Bad news may be on the agenda for you. Do not take a defeatist attitude. Try to keep an open mind. Extra work may help to divert you from your problems.

TAURUS April 21 to May 20

Unforeseen emergencies may be a drain on your resources this week. You also may be called upon to help out in an emergency. Your quick thinking will be of tremendous help.

GEMINI May 21 to June 20

Geminis should have a quiet, routine week. Do not let the drudgery make you irritable or it could cause problems with your home life.

CANCER June 21 to July 20

SAGITTARIUS November 23 to December 20

A new romantic involvement may be in store for those of your sign. Married Sagittarians must be careful of entanglements, your married life could suffer irreparable damage.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

When baking whole wheat bread, try adding about $\frac{1}{2}$ cup cornmeal to the dough. Helps to keep the bread from crumbling.

For white bread dough - add a couple tablespoons of vinegar. Retards molding.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

Lemon Cartwheels

2/3 cups shortening

1 cup sugar

1 egg

3 tbsp. cream

1 tsp. grated lemon rind

1 tbsp. lemon juice

2 cups sifted flour

1/2 tsp. salt

1/2 tsp. soda

1 tsp. cream of tarter

Cream shortening and sugar. Beat in egg, cream, lemon rind and juice. Sift dry ingredients together. Stir into the creamed mixture, blending well. Drop by teaspoonful onto a greased cookie sheet. Flatten with spatula. Bake in hot oven (400°) 8 to 10 minutes. Makes 3½ dozen cookies.

MILDRED MANSFORD COLUMN

Dear Mildred,

I have a horrid situation going on here and I don't know what to do. My husband drinks constantly and uses abusive language to our children and I. He has even hit me on occasion. My neighbors are unaware of all this and I want to keep it that way for the sake of the children. Please tell me what to do.

N.L.

Dear N.L.

You have a problem indeed! A drinking habit can be a very hard one to deal with. Have you tried A.A.? They do wonderful things for alcoholics. Also, Al-Anon is a wonderful help to the families of alcoholics. Try at all time to remember he is a sick man and very unhappy.

Mildred Mansford

Dear Mrs. Mansford,

I have three children and a nice enough husband, my problem is I have been seeing a neighbor on the side for 6 years. My husband and my neighbors wife are unaware of course, but every day I become more and more afraid that they will find out. I don't want to hurt my husband as he is a good provider. What do I do. I love my friend.

Needs Love Too

Dear Needs Love,

You are right to be afraid of being found out. It could be you have been and don't know it. End this affair at once before all your lives are ruined. From what you say about your husband, he sounds like a good person. He may need love too. If you end this affair he may sense the difference in you and you could find your marriage more rewarding than ever.

Mildred Mansford

Dear Mildred,

I am married, very civic minded, and hold a respected position in the community. I work hard and try to do the best I can for the people.

Most of the people in the area are of low income or below, and I'll have to admit they are not the most intelligent people in the world, but their intentions are good.

My problem is this, how can I get more respect from these people so that I can better help them?

X

Dear X,

Perhaps you get the same degree of respect from them that you bestow to them. If you judge them by their incomes and set yourself up as superior in the I.Q. Department, it is surprising they respect you at all. Many rich people have no brains at all and vice-versa. Step down off your pedestal before the weight of your head tips you over

BIRTHDAYS AND ANNIVERSARIES

This week we wish a very happy Anniversary to Mr. & Mrs. Arthur Hall. Art is foreman at the Cat hedralite Domes. His wife Ruth is a real estate broker in the Paradise area. They reside in Paradise. They are avid collectors of antiques and recently sold a beautiful collection of Avon bottles. On November 15, 1971, they will have been married for 40 years. Art and Ruth Hall were married and lived in Canada until around 1955. He has worked at the Domes for five years. We wish them a happy Anniversary, and many, many years of happiness together.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Publishers,

I just received two copies of your Concow Yankee Hill Informer. I didn't know there was such a thing. I am so glad there is. I want to thank you people for taking the time to put together a small paper from home. I sure miss being there, hearing and seeing the things I grew up with. Especially the people. I miss friendly faces and voices. Luckily I am in Boot Camp with a guy from Oroville. We are in the same company. It helps to talk over news from around the country you know.

A special thanks to Mrs. Jay Grieco. She is most thoughtful for sending me this news from home and around the community. Both Mr. & Mrs. Grieco have helped to develop the community, and I hope they have many years of happiness together in Big Bend at Point Dawn.

If I had a poem I would send it in to be published or screened if you so desired.

Once again, thank you so much.
As always,
Lyman W. Moak

POEM

After mailing the letter to us, Mr. Moak thought of a poem, and was kind enough to send it to us for publication, here it is:

The snow has covered the mountain tops
With a blanket I wish I could see
All I can do is imagine
The way it used to be.

Oh, and I dream about those mountains
Especially the areas I know
And I hope that I soon will be there
Just to walk around in the snow.

I remember the feel of home
And the family I left behind
And the warmth of a good hot fire place
It is imprinted on my mind.

From Oroville Lake to Bucks Lake
I've hunted and walked the trail
And I've rode through that country
With a saddle horn as my sail.

Where a dozen cowbells are music
To a wandering high hearted guy
Just watch those cows a feeding
Under the high pines, sigh.

Right now I'm just watching my dreams go by
On a cloud that no one can see
Gliding home on the Feather River
In peace and harmony.
Lyman William Moak

Lyman is the son of Lyman and LaRoe Moak of Big Bend, and we sincerely appreciate his taking time for contribution of material to our paper. We shall be grateful for any further contributions from him.

DEBATE

Here are the letters we received on last weeks subject, "How would you feel about closing the Butte County Community Hospital, if that be the ultimate decision of the Board of Supervisors?" We hope your enthusiasm will continue. The subject for our second debate will be "What are your reactions to or sightings of Unidentified Flying Objects?" Try to get your letters in by Thursday, if you have a subject you would like to have debated, send it in.

Editor,

I do not feel they should close the County Hospital. This is a badly needed service considering the high price of hospitalization these days. With todays prices the way they are, most people can hardly afford to stay fed, much less pay unreasonable prices for medical bills and prescriptions.

The County Hospital is a life saver to new people who come into the area. Almost any doctor will refuse a newcomer, some "cater" only to old patients. If you've ever had a sick, or badly hurt child and called trying to get a doctor to see him, you would know what a beautiful thing the County Hospital can be.

I feel it would be a mistake and a detriment to the County to close this facility.

Signed,
Mrs. Richard Redding

Dear Editor,

I am so glad somebody has finally given the citizens a chance to air their views.

The County Hospital should not be closed. It could be improved on and probably run for far less than it is. Anyone who has been there often could tell you they don't seem to be too well organized. Even with their faults however, they perform a wonderful service for those who need it. Our welfare rolls would no doubt be much higher if sick people could not be cared for, causing any kind of disability. Medical bills are so high right now the average workingman cannot afford a private physician unless he has fabulous insurance. On top of that, many insurances pay off only after long, drawn out court episodes. In the meantime, if a person needs treatment and cannot obtain it, he becomes unable to work, and then his family ends up on welfare. There must be a better way to solve the problem. I am a property owner and I pay a good deal of tax money to this county and I would much rather see it go to the less fortunate in our society than to some of our county officials who spend their time crawling in the brush after long hairs.

SPEEDY RECOVERY

Loren Balsley is in Sacramento for eye surgery. His sister Frances is with him, and will take him to her home in Napa as soon as he can leave the hospital. We all wish Loren a speedy recovery, and hope to see him home soon.

RESIDENT OF THE MONTH

Don't forget to send your votes in for the Outstanding Community Resident of the Month. Get your votes in by November 24th, so that we may print an article on the one chosen for the last issue of the month. We have had several calls, and hope to get more response before the end of the month.

EDITORIAL

Life in a rural community can be a joy, or a life of torment and turmoil, depending upon your neighbors.

Idle and malicious gossip can be annoying and detrimental. Neighbors with petty prejudices and jealousies are practically intolerable. Neighbors who thrive on trouble and constantly try to create more, are the kind of disruptors who can tear at a community until it breaks apart. Usually, these disruptors are found out for what they are before too much damage is done. But wouldn't it be pleasant if things were different? If we were all dependent upon one another, all had respect for one another, and could communicate openly with anyone at any time.

Perhaps we lost some of our neighborly instincts when we lost our pioneering abilities. Perhaps we were separated by a faster pace, and modern conveniences. Perhaps the more possessions we obtained the bigger ego problem we created for ourselves.

This century seems to find everyone on an ego trip, willing to fight for their overinflated egos at a word. Yet the ones who should have inflated egos, who are truly worthy of taking an ego trip, usually withdraw into themselves and away from the community.

It makes us wonder whatever happened to honesty, loyalty, humility and loving thy neighbor.

This community like all others everywhere, has good and bad, but we are particularly fortunate. Our good element shines brighter and far outweighs the bad. We are indeed fortunate to have some of the finest people in our area that one could find residing anywhere in the country.

SPORTS

By: Rick Washeleski

Well, this is it, the last weekend of deer season. Cheer up! If you don't get your buck this weekend, you can go pheasant hunting.

The prediction is very good for many birds to be taken this season out of the Sacramento Valley.

Quail season is still open for this area, there are many large coveys in the Concow Yankee Hill area.

For you fishermen, Lake Concow will not drop any lower, than the level at the present time. Catfish, bluegill, bass and crappie are biting fair to good, during the morning hours.

For you people who do not like to fish and hunt, my advice is "to take up jogging and enjoy the fall colors that nature has provided".

ROAD WORK

Since we began typing the sten cils for this weeks paper, the County Road Department came out and graded the Concow Road, and partially cleaned the ditches. They stated they could do no more work until it rained, as the road was too dry. A few telephone calls seemed to have helped.

POTLUCK DINNER

We understand that Tom Staley had around 15 people at his Pot Luck Dinner last Sunday, and that the food was excellent. We would like to hear from him or someone who is working with him on the Food Cooperative Program. This is a fine program and can mean a great savings in purchase of foods. We will be more than happy to do an article on this effort if they will get in contact with us and furnish us all the needed information.

All correspondence to and for the CYHI should be mailed to Route 1, Box 238-A, Oroville, California. Our phone number is 533-0714.
